Vice Provost Terri Harris Reed Pens Open Letter to the GW Community

Dr. Terri Harris Reed, vice provost for diversity and inclusion, encourages reflection on the roles of citizen leaders and the university's aspirations for excellence and equity in light of recent events.
Meet the Provost's Diversity Fellows Program

This year's 11 fellows continue their doctoral work in subjects ranging from hominidae studies to empowering women and girls.

Christy Willis Retires After 30-Year Career

We extend our best wishes to Christy Willis, who—after more than 30 years of exemplary leadership and service with Disability Support Services—will retire at the end of the month.

Dean's Council Hosts Annual Open House

More than 100 prospective students of color were accommodated this fall during the Your GW program by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

ANNOUNCEMENTS & EVENTS

MLK Day of Service and Leadership

On Monday, January 19th, 2015, in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr's legacy of compassion and empowerment, the Center for Civic Engagement and Public Service welcomes you to be a part of service and leadership within the Washington D.C. community alongside your fellow GW students, faculty, staff and alumni. Groups and individuals are encouraged to participate! Register today!

The King Celebration

Save the date for this year's King Celebration on Wednesday, January 21st, 2015 at 4:30 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Marvin Center! GW's yearly tribute to the life and legacy of Dr. King is a cornerstone of the university's diversity and civic engagement programming for students, staff, faculty and the DC community. It provides an occasion to share our pride for being in and of the city.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM THE OFFICE OF DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

With the holiday season upon us, we wanted to take a minute to thank you personally for your support and generosity toward our work this year. As we look to 2015, our efforts will largely focus on strengthening our community; growing our social media presence; and enabling further dialogue, action and programming on diversity and inclusion matters impacting the entire GW community.

Please keep us in mind and bring to our attention the many brilliant and inspiring activities and ideas that are advancing GW's pursuit of inclusive excellence in teaching, research and service. As always, we encourage you to deepen your commitment to diversity and take action to achieve the promise of a just and truly multicultural campus and democratic society.

The ODI team would like to wish you a joyous and prosperous holiday season. We hope you spend this special time of year doing what you enjoy most!

Thank you for your continued support.
Office of Diversity & Inclusion:
Center for Civic Engagement and Public Service | Disability Support Services | Multicultural Student Services Center

Rice Hall
2121 I Street, NW
Suites 813 and 403
Washington, DC 20052

Opt Out